Thanksgiving for Faithful Leadership

GCORR Ministry Model

A conversation about those matters which get to the heart of our connection and separation as a church and as the human family – and are held in such a way that greater understanding and healing may occur.

- GCORR trains, resources, and connects leaders in order to hone their intercultural skills, which allows them to establish relevant ministries in a Christian movement that reflects the diversity around us.

- Collaborate with leaders to evaluate programs, mission, staffing, budgetary priorities, and leadership pipelines to insure that the church is reaching, serving, and bringing into full participation a membership of younger people and more diverse people.
